My hobby is playing chess, I often go down with my grandfather, but every time it is a failure, grandpa always said I don't grow. When it comes to chess, I know some, but compared to the grandfather who is known as the "general sheng", just like a little bit of a little bit.

Today, I'm going to have a chess fight with my grandpa. As the saying goes, "train for a thousand days". We set the game and killed it. I think that winning will take him by surprise. So I set up the gun, arranged the "pileup" and kept the rest of the road. Then I pulled out my car, rushed to the "enemy" camp, hit right and left, and I ate my grandpa's "horse and gun" and four "soldiers" in a row.

I was a little complacent, so modestly said to my grandpa, "I'm sorry, you can't sit still. Now you must lose this game." I was glad that this game had won before my eyes, and I couldn't help but cocked my legs and hummed a little. I said to my grandpa, "grandpa, if I can eat you with one of my chess pieces, if I turn all the rest, you will probably let me kill you!" Well, I was camped here, waiting for reinforcements to help me, but what I didn't expect was that the enemy had an early intention of attacking the camp. The enemy took the plane to our main force, checked the soldiers of the city, and entered the main area. I see the situation is not good, busy with the "round wei rescue zhao" plan may be too late, the main will be arrested.

I have a wide range of hobbies: swimming, skating, playing badminton, playing chess, and I like to play chess best.

I like to play chess is influenced by my father. He plays chess on the computer as long as he is free from work. When I was two years old, I knew every piece of chess and knew where they were, and then my dad taught me every piece of chess, and I began to be interested in chess. After I went to school, I recognized a lot of words. After my spare time, I took my father's chess book out and carefully looked at it, and asked my father what I didn't understand. When my father played chess, I also liked to look around, and I asked my father from time to time, so I could not walk, so I could not walk. I slowly gained some experience and played my mother chess when I was all right. Sometimes I see some remnants in this evening paper, I take the checkerboard, the chess pieces come out, according to the layout arranged, think carefully. I can't just take one step at a chess game, but I still have to think about what I can do next, what I can do with each other, and what I can do about it. Chess is not about eating more. Eating a son is only a means, not an end, and the purpose is to kill the other person. Playing chess can cultivate my good habit of thinking seriously. If you have difficulty in learning, you should think carefully and get the answer.

Playing chess can give me a taste of defeat, and it can also make me feel the joy of success. I can play chess carefully and take every step.
